

Interview Questions

How did you decide when to call, fold, or raise?

Did the robot's voice influence how aggressive or cautious you were?

Would you play differently if you knew the robot had a different voice or personality?

What would you do differently if you played against this robot again?

What surprised you the most about interacting with the robot player?

Do you have any suggestions for improving the robot's interaction style or voice?

Any final thoughts or reflections on the experience?